

What Inspires Me

Teacher's Guide Class 5-6

Encourage your students to show what inspires them through a creative, uplifting doodle!

Doodles can be submitted between
August 13, 2018 - October 6, 2018

What's in the guide?

- 2 unique lesson plans that integrate Doodle 4 Google into your classroom
- A letter explaining the contest to copy and share with parents

Activity 1

Inspiration Brainstorm — This Is Your Moment

Objectives:

- Help students identify examples of inspiration, especially ideas, actions, events, and quotes that embody what it means to inspire.
- Help students identify that many acts, events, and movements that have changed the world for the better began with simple acts of inspiration – and in many instances, were done by people just like themselves.

Materials:

- Pens/pencils, notepads, Internet or school library access, art supplies (scissors/cardboard/paper), illustration software, pencils/pens, notepads, Internet access, art supplies

Steps:

1. As a group, have students identify moments, events, and experiences that have inspired them. (Thought starters for 2017: Million Woman March, Hurricane and wildfire relief efforts, #DoSomethingForNothing, #metoo, Wonder Woman, Fenty, Hidden Figures' Oscar acceptance, Hamilton, and many more from current events, sports, and your own cities, communities, and neighborhoods)
2. Once you have a fairly comprehensive list going, ask students to do a little research to identify some individuals and/or “catalyst moments” that made the events on your list possible.
3. Have them speculate: How did they do it? What drove them? What or who helped them make it happen? (Note: actual “proof” or “the right answer” is not necessary here – this should be a fun and fast-paced call and response.)
4. Now ask students to write down or share a vision they have for themselves to do something inspiring or positive.
5. Then ask students to either a) write a paragraph or b) create a drawing/piece of art that explains their vision and how they might accomplish it.
6. Bring it all together by having students use their vision work to create a “wall of inspiration” for others in the school. The student body can show support/love/agreement of students by attaching stickers, marking “+1”, signing their names, or photographing sections to post on social media (with a hashtag of the classroom’s choosing).

Activity 2

Let's Start Doodling!

Now it's time for your students to share their inspirations and turn them into a Google Doodle!

Objective:

- Help students to take the learnings from the brainstorm activity and translate it to a Google Doodle.

Materials:

- Pencils, art supplies, collage materials, or other art supplies

Steps:

1. Ask students to reflect on the brainstorm lesson, and how they can translate their unique visual representation into a Google Doodle.
2. To get the creativity flowing, show these videos to the students:
  - Part One: Imagine: goo.gl/pdRW22
  - Part Two: Create: goo.gl/XnJ4uo
3. Students can also check out our doodle team's work for inspiration at: google.com/doodles.
4. Now it's time to doodle! Pass out the submission forms in this packet and have students create their doodles. We recommend giving students at least 30 minutes to complete their creations. You may also want to let them go home and brainstorm with parents and family members. Download additional entry forms at doodles.google.co.in/d4g
5. Encourage students to select any medium that inspires their inner artist. They can use anything, like paint, clay, or even food to create a doodle that represents their inspiration.
6. Collect the completed doodles and submit them using the contest instructions outlined here.

Dear Parent/Guardian,

At Google, we believe that inspiration can come from anywhere, but there's always been one source that never ceases to amaze us: our kids. Year after year, we are moved by the delight and wonder they find in the world around them, and these flashes of brilliance help influence our products and make the web — and our world — a better place.

This year marks our 10th annual Doodle 4 Google contest, and our theme is: "What inspires me." We're excited to have students (and parents) reflect on what most inspires them by creating a unique, uplifting doodle using any medium (crayon, paint, silkscreen, wood, computer chips, chocolate chips (er, maybe not), etc...).

Check out doodles.google.co.in/d4g for the entry form and more information.

Let the doodling commence!
